

Harry T. Brabson, (Died 21 Nov 1887), Newspaper Clipping, The Perry Historians

Marysville, Pa. November 28, 1887; our town was shocked to learn of the tragic death of Harry T. Brabson last Friday morning. Mr. Brabson had been working in the frog shop of the Penna. Steel Co., at Steelton and had gone to Harrisburg Thursday evening with friends. His remains were found about 3 o'clock the next morning. It is supposed that he attempted to jump a freight to ride home, when he met with the accident that must have caused instant death. The remains were brought to this place to his father's residence. Saturday evening and were interred in the Chestnut Grove Cemetery yesterday afternoon. A special train bearing about 150 of his fellow workmen arrived here before the funeral and remained until after his burial. Deceased was well known and liked by all who knew him. He was in the 22nd year of his age.

www.theperryhistorians.org