John Dallas Cooper, Green Park, Perry County, Pa., son of Henry and Sarah (Sheaffer) Cooper, was born in Bloomfield, Perry County, March 15, 1846. In 1848, Henry Cooper's term as sheriff of Perry County having expired, the family removed to the farm near Green Park, Tyrone Township. Here John D. Cooper spent his youthful days. After receiving his primary education in the common schools of the township, he studied first at Mt. Dempsey Academy, at Landisburg, and afterwards at the Loysville Academy. His course being completed, he first taught for some time in the public schools, and then spent one year in the business of milling. Since that time he has devoted all his attention to farming. Mr. Cooper has served efficiently in several township offices. He is a director of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Mutual Fire Insurance Company. His political views are Democratic.

John Dallas Cooper was married in Tyrone Township, January 27, 1870, to Susan E., daughter of William and Mary Ann (Bower) Brickley; both parents are deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper have three children: Alice Lynn, born October 9, 1872; Sarah Frances, born February 21, 1875; and Floy Ella, born April 4, 1880. All the family are members of the Lutheran church.

George A. Cooper, son of Henry and Sarah (Sheaffer) Cooper, was born in Bloomfield, Perry County, April 25, 1841. He was educated in the public schools. Since boyhood his occupation has been farming, and his life of quiet diligence and usefulness has been spent in Tyrone Township. He was married at Shermansdale, Perry County, September 22, 1885, to Mary E., daughter of George and Susanna (Rowe) Faust. Their children are: Frank M., born January 23, 1889; Ruth V., born May 24, 1890; Marion L., born February 23, 1892; and Clarence, born June 7, 1894. Like his brother, Mr. Cooper is a Democrat. He attends the Church of God.
