

Joey Hoffman, (9 Jul 1982 – 8 Nov 1990), Patriot-News, Friday, November 9, 1990 Boy, 8, injured in fire in Perry County dies,

A Perry County boy who was injured in a fire Tuesday died yesterday in a Philadelphia hospital.

Joey Hoffman, 8, was flown to St. Christopher's Hospital for Children after the blaze at the home of Leo and Nancy Garman along Old Route 22 in Greenwood Twp., Perry County. He had been in critical condition since admission. The boy had been staying at the Garman house.

Fifty firefighters from Millerstown and Newport Fire Companies fought the 10: 42 p.m. blaze which apparently started in a second-floor hall where a kerosene heater was located, according to fire officials.

The cause is under investigation.

The boy was rescued from the second-floor by firefighters. He died yesterday afternoon, a hospital spokeswoman said today.

Two other occupants also were injured and treated in Polyclinic Medical Center.
