

Peter Kline, (8 Nov 1810 – 3 Jun 1875), Biographical Encyclopedia of the Juniata Valley, J.M. Runk and Co., 1897

Peter Kline was born November 8, 1810, and brought up near Loysville; he attended the schools of Tyrone Township, receiving a somewhat limited education.

In the year in which he was married, 1839, he bought the homestead upon which his son, William A. Kline, resides, from William Blackburn. He had already made a beginning in farming on his own account, on his father's farm; he now left his early home, and devoted his attention to the land which he had purchased, on which he built a comfortable house, and made many other improvements.

He was prosperous, and was considered to deserve his prosperity, being a man of upright, character and liberal spirit. He was warmly interested in church affairs, and in the general concerns of the community. He was a decided Republican.

Peter Kline was married March 19, 1839, to Sarah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith. Their children are:

George, born April 4, 1840, married Mary Bailor, has had seven children, William, deceased, Edward, deceased, Amina, Clara, Alvin, Lilly and Orville;

Margaret E., born August 22, 1842;

Jacob H., born October 23, 1843, resides in Illinois, married Elizabeth Burd, has seven children, Harry, Charles, Pearl, Edward, Cloyd, Eva, and one that died very young; and Caroline S. (Mrs. John A. McKee), has five children, Charles, deceased, Sallie, Harry, May and Floy.

William A.;

Peter Kline died June 3, 1875. His wife, who was born March 15, 1807, died in March, 1880, after a life of usefulness, kindness and faithful devotion to duty.
