

Harry E. Rhoads, (6 Dec 1893 – 31 Jul 1917), Philadelphia Inquirer, Thursday, August 2, 1917
Seeking Cooling Creek, Drowns,

Special to the Inquirer. Marysville, Pa., August 1. – Harry Rhoads, 26 years old, of Duncannon, was drowned in a mid dam near Duncannon when he went swimming to get relief from the sweltering heat. When he dove into the cool creek water, it is believed that he was attacked by cramps for he failed to reappear. The body has been recovered.

www.theperryhistorians.org